Most people think of probate as involving a will. If a person dies and leaves a will, then probate is required to implement the provisions of that will. However, a probate process also can happen if a person dies without a will and has property that needs to be distributed under the state intestacy law (the law of inheritance).

Do All Wills Need to Go Through Probate? | legalzoom.com

First of all, many estates don ' t even require probate proceedings. Generally, only assets owned in the deceased person ' s name alone must go through probate. And if the value of those " probate assets " is small enough, the family can take advantage of probate shortcuts, which are less expensive than regular
